An online review of Dida said;

Amazing product... incredible results!

I was misdiagnosed for years by my GP who told me I had IBS. I did some research after years of suffering digestive problems and realised I have had Candida in varying degrees since my teens.

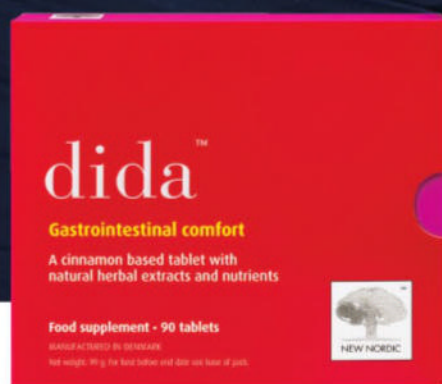

I was shocked as I had many symptoms but rarely all at the same time. I purchased Dida™ and after taking just ONE supplement, the trapped wind disappeared (it was severe) and the acid reflux and bloatedness completely vanished after the second supplement on the very first day!

I have never looked back, nor have I suffered from the symptoms of Candida since. I lost all the fluid retention and after a week had lost 7lbs in weight after eating 3 meals a day on a normal diet which I haven't been able to do for years. I literally lived on fluids!

After a month I weighed myself out of curiosity and lost over 14lbs in weight. I wasn't trying to diet. It was fluid retention.

I am in the best state of health in years, eating normally again. I was always slim and never dieted so this has been an amazing journey back to health after years of misdiagnosis!

Thank you Dida for this miracle...I love the flavour and will forever be grateful to you for restoring my life and health...what a joy to be able to go out for meals with friends and family again and not be in agony afterwards or have to skimp on food!

BEAT THE BLOAT!

Fed up having an upset stomach and the symptoms that come with it? With Dida™ you can start feeling better, today.

Did you know?

That bloating, digestive pains, irritability and flatulence can be caused by an overgrowth of yeast in your digestive system? All of us have yeast in our bodies, but too much can lead to unwanted symptoms and yeast infections – more than 90 per cent of which are caused by a type of fungal. However, research has shown that high concentrations of certain plant extracts may have a positive effect on lowering yeast levels.

Natural Warriors

The unique bioactive nutrient, herb and spice oil recipe contained in Dida™ contribute to the maintenance and function of your gastrointestinal tract and its mucous membrane lining. The tablet which is manufactured in Denmark, contains carminative oils from cinnamon, fennel, and mint plus a combination of several extracts. Niacin also contributes to the maintenance of normal mucous membranes.

“Excellent for digestive issues. I had issues for 8 months, waking in the middle of the night feeling very uncomfortable. 2 weeks into taking these and 99% of my symptoms have stopped.”

Towers of STRENGTH

ANNA MADELEY, RACHEL SHENTON and PATRICIA HODGE on how the women of Darrowby take centre stage in the finale

ALL CREATURES GREAT AND SMALL

LAST ONE THURSDAY, 9PM, CHANNEL 5 DRAMA

Helen Herriot, Mrs Hall and Mrs Pumphrey can each be relied upon to offer unflinching support through troubled times. But as the fifth series of Channel 5's hit period drama All Creatures Great and Small draws to a close this week, the ever-practical trio must team up and use their abundance of compassion and resilience to deal with a crisis at veterinary practice Skeldale House.

When James (played by Nicholas Ralph) falls worryingly ill while treating pampered Pekinese Tricky Woo, Helen (Rachel Shenton) rushes to care for her husband, as Mrs Hall (Anna Madeley) and Tricky's owner Mrs Pumphrey (Patricia Hodge) juggle surgery inquiries, the Herriots' baby, Jimmy, and even a spot of jam-making!

Here, in a TV Times exclusive, leading ladies Anna, Rachel and Patricia tell us what to expect in the (fictional) village of Darrowby...

'MRS HALL'S A REALLY CAPABLE PERSON'

ANNA MADELEY on how the stoical housekeeper holds the fort

This series, everything's been shaken by war and people have taken on new roles – it's been great seeing Mrs Hall gather her confidence as an Air Raid Precautions warden,' shares Anna. 'Now, Skeldale is in the happy position of having everyone home, but they're dealing with huge workloads and then James becomes unwell. Mrs Hall's a really capable person and supports Helen while she looks after James, but she finds Mrs Pumphrey taking a seat in the scullery with her!

'Rachel and Patricia are fantastic actors and brilliant women. Patricia works her socks off and then has every bit as much fun. Her portrayal of Mrs Pumphrey's bond with Tricky is a wonderful part of what the show is about. It's funny and heart-warming, but a dignified reminder of how important animals are in our lives.

'In the finale, Mrs Hall's confronted by a scullery full of strawberries, too, so she's on a jam-making mission! Baby Jimmy has his first taste of freshly made jam and we had a great day filming with the strawberries and everyone took away huge bags to eat at home.

'We also see Mrs Hall spot that Siegfried Farnon [the head vet, played by Samuel West] is in need of help, so she convinces Tristan [Callum Woodhouse] to assist him in the practice, and it turns out to be the time together they need. They've both been to war, but haven't shared those experiences, and they've missed each other but don't know how to say so. But when everything goes wrong [after they get stuck in the Dales], how will they handle it together?'

Heart of the home: Mrs Hall busies herself making jam

'MRS PUMPHREY ENJOYS BEING NEEDED'

PATRICIA HODGE on the wealthy dog-lover's eagerness to help

There is a bit of everything and all human life in this episode,' says Patricia. 'Initially, Tricky is sick and there's eyebrow-raising over, "What's wrong with this dog now?" I adored Derek [who retired from playing Tricky at the end of the last series], but we now have Dora, who was nervous at the start, but she's well-trained, a sweetie and very cuddly!

'Everyone at Skeldale is fond of Mrs Pumphrey and they look after Tricky, but her relationship with them has grown. She's become a matriarchal figure. And now, when James gets ill, Mrs Pumphrey steps in. It brings out the best in her – she has broad shoulders and enjoys being needed.

'But you sense the class system, as Mrs Hall is subservient, which Mrs Pumphrey doesn't want, but they and Helen gradually all reach out to each other. Their need for one another is great. It's an interesting dynamic, and Anna and Rachel are wonderful – the words bounce between us and we automatically know how to play to each other.

'Mrs Pumphrey enjoys looking after Jimmy as well – the babies playing him were so good! And I liked being in the Skeldale kitchen. There's a fun scene in the surgery, too. It was adorable and like a zoo! 🐾

Motherly figure: Mrs Pumphrey lends her services

'HELEN NEEDS JAMES TO BE OK'

RACHEL SHENTON on the dotting wife's fears and fortitude

It's a true All Creatures finale – there's laughter, tears and animals. It's a good one!' promises Rachel. 'But Helen has challenges that require a lot of her emotionally...

'James fell ill at the start of the run with [bacterial disease] brucellosis, and was discharged from the RAF, and now we learn of the psychological effect that has had on him. It's harder for James, and Helen knows that. However, the fact he didn't share how he was feeling initially hurts her. But she eventually understands that and their connection deepens.

'Helen has been thrilled to have James home. There was a threat he wouldn't come back, so to have him there in one piece, she's over the moon, and I've loved their careful navigation through parenthood. They're very much on each other's teams. Even when they have differences, they make their way through with compassion and love; it's inspiring. Now, Helen just wants and needs James to be OK and happy.

'And in the finale, everyone pulls together to help Helen and James. I've loved playing the deepening friendship between Helen and Mrs Hall, and we see that more. Both Anna and Patricia are brilliant actors, who I've learnt from, and I enjoy the laughter! I probably laugh the most on set with those two; when Anna gets the giggles, that's it, we all go down!

'But it's been pretty heavy this series with the war, and James getting sick, so I hope the Skeldale gang have more fun next season! 🐾

Loving support: James and Helen with baby Jimmy

PRIDE OF BRITAIN AWARDS

NEW THURSDAY, 8PM,
ITV1 AWARDS

Carol Vorderman beams with joy as we chat about the Pride of Britain Awards celebrating its 25th birthday this year.

'Any big anniversary is a point of reflection,' smiles the presenter, 63, who, alongside Diversity frontman Ashley Banjo, will be at the helm of the 2024 ceremony, taking place this Monday at London's Grosvenor House hotel and airing on ITV1 this Thursday.

Here, in an exclusive interview with TV Times, Carol takes a trip down memory lane...

The awards were founded in 1999 by newspaper editor Peter Willis, who passed away in 2021. Could you share your memories of hosting that first ceremony?

Pride of Britain started as a lunchtime event, celebrating famous business leaders, sports people, royalty and the like. There were also awards for brave members of the public, and when those were given out, the room fell silent and stars such as Sir Paul McCartney and Cilla Black were crying. Something happened in those moments that affected us all.

PRIDE of place

CAROL VORDERMAN on why TV's most uplifting awards ceremony has stood the test of time

I then took the idea to focus on just those awards to ITV and, the following year, Pride of Britain became a huge celebration on prime-time TV!

What makes it such a special event to present?

I love that Pride of Britain was the first TV awards ceremony to be about ordinary people, while still keeping all the celebrities in the audience. Every year, this event offers a reminder that the vast majority of individuals in this country are good and kind.

From life-saving interventions to community initiatives, Pride of Britain highlights a broad range of inspiring acts.

Do you still get emotional hearing the stories?

On the judging day, one category is for regional fundraisers and I was in floods of tears for two hours watching film clips about the nominees! But Ashley and I must get rid of any tears before the event itself, otherwise it becomes about us as hosts, which it absolutely should not be. Pride of Britain should always be about the winners.

We're guessing there might be special plans afoot to mark the silver anniversary...

Yes, we have some unique stories and some incredible surprises lined up for our extraordinary winners to help us celebrate 25 years. But if I tell you what they are, then I might have to lock you up until the night itself so you don't spoil them! Ha!

We're living in tough times at the moment. Does that make an event like the Pride of Britain Awards all the more important?

These difficult years for Britain have made me realise how we must keep fighting together. And all our winners are fighters – most have been through tragedy themselves and are now fighting for others, which is inspirational.

They say you only see stars on a clear night, but, even in daylight, those stars are always there. This night is where the very special ones get to shine.

PRIDE OF BRITAIN AWARDS is previewed on pages 86-87

FORCE

to be reckoned with

PARMINDER NAGRA on how her detective
drama is upping the stakes for Season 2

DI RAY

NEW SUNDAY-TUESDAY, 9PM,
ITV1 DRAMA (BOX SET, ITVX)

When a notorious crime boss is killed in a drive-by shooting outside a

Birmingham hospital, it's a race against time to prevent an all-out turf war as ITV's police procedural DI Ray returns.

The case brings DI Rachita Ray (ER's Parminder Nagra) back into the fold of the (fictional) West Central police force's homicide squad, two months after being suspended from duty following the discovery that her fiancé, DCI Martyn Hunter (Beyond Paradise favourite Jamie Bamber), was secretly working for a local drug-smuggling gang.

As Rachita waits to be cleared of any involvement in her ex's corrupt dealings, she's faced with a dilemma: should she speak up about the institutional racism within the police that almost prevented her from solving her last case? Or should she keep quiet, focus on catching the killer and avoid getting a reputation as a troublemaker?

TV Times caught up with Parminder, 49, to go over her case notes...

How is Rachita feeling at the start of this new series?

The first season didn't end so well for her. She was betrayed by her partner, and Top dog: But is Supt Beardsmore's bark worse than his bite?

a guy who she had strong feelings for [PS Tony Khatri, played by Trigger Point's Maanuv Thiara] was shot dead in front of her – if anything could go wrong in her life, it pretty much did.

We pick up pretty soon after, so she's in a place where she's not feeling her best. She's going back to work with the same people, but she's not very trusting of anyone.

She also has to do a lot of fighting with the administration, and can't understand why she's not allowed to get on with her job.

'RACHITA'S NOT VERY TRUSTING OF ANYONE'

Were you excited to have another chance to portray her?

Yes! We have six episodes this time [Series 1, which aired in 2022, comprised four], so we really get a chance to explore her and the story more. I feel very lucky.

In a way, it's like a brand-new show. The feeling of it is very noir this season. Nirpal Bhogal, our director, is brilliant, and our director of photography, Adam Lyons, did a great job with the whole look of it.

Manhunt: The team investigate a double homicide

DI Ray often clashes with her bosses, DCI Kerry Henderson (The Tower's Gemma Whelan) and Supt Beardsmore (The Bay's Ian Puleston-Davies). Is that dynamic fun to play?

The funny thing is, the relationship between my character and Gemma's looks so tense, but, off-screen, we're just laughing all the time. It's the same thing with Ian. He's just the sweetest, kindest guy, but his character isn't!

Rachita's union rep Hiroka McGregor (Naomi Yang) wants her to pursue a discrimination case against the police. How does she feel about that?

Well, Hiroka also has her own agenda in terms of wanting Rachita to take things further. But Rachita is like, 'I don't want to be put in a box. Can't I just be employed because I'm good at what I do?' So she has to handle Hiroka carefully.

What reaction did you get from people during filming on location in Birmingham?

I think people were generally just going about their business, but they felt quite proud because we were doing something in their city that is going to highlight it. And Birmingham looks great in this!

There's a lot of action in this series, including a foot chase to catch a suspect in the first episode! Did you enjoy that?

Oh, that foot chase! I remember Whitney White [AKA DC Charlene Ellis] was going, 'I can't wait to do this scene,' and I was like, 'Hold your horses, this is not my first time doing this. It's a long game, and you've got to pace yourself.'

We had to go over three sets of canals, and she just pelted off. But, by the end of it, she'd done something to her knee, James Eeles [who plays suspect Aled] had pulled his groin, and who was the last person standing? Me! I said, 'I told you!'

Rachita faces many obstacles in her career. What do you think keeps her going?

The reason she got into this profession is because she loves what she does. She's always searching for the truth, regardless of what Henderson and Beardsmore say.

She wants to do the right thing, so she just has to deal with these people.

There are so many moments where Beardsmore is just barking at her, and she's going, 'OK, Sir. Yes, Sir,' and then just carries on doing what she needs to do. I love that!

Betrayed: Rachita was disgusted to learn fiancé Martyn was a bent cop in Season 1

DI RAY is previewed on pages 46-47

BACK ON THE BEAT

Creator MAYA SONDHI on shaping DI Ray's return

Which elements of Rachita's character were you particularly keen to explore this time, Maya?

I wanted to feed into the PTSD aspect. Rachita is not OK – she's only had a tiny bit of time off – but then she gets thrown into a massive murder investigation with warring crime families. I think it is important to see the human side of her and that she's not coping so well.

New faces this time include Showtrial's Michael Socha and Douglas Is Cancelled's Patrick Baladi. Were you excited to have them on board?

I was so honoured – [Midsomer Murders star] Annette Badland came in to do one scene, too! Michael was amazing, and Patrick was a brilliant addition to the series. I wrote the part for him – I even called the character 'Patrick'! I asked him if he wanted me to change the name, and he said, 'No, that's fine, keep it!'

You're an actor, too, with credits including Line of Duty's PC Maneet Bindra. What's your acting experience taught you about writing?

You can overdo it with stage directions. I know what I don't need to write for the actors, because they'll just get it implicitly.

But I really feel for them when the script changes. Sometimes you write them lovely backstory stuff, but by the next draft it's gone, because we have to keep the plot moving!

HIMESH PATEL, LOLLY ADEFOPE and JESSICA HYNES on a superhero-style battle for cinema supremacy

THE FRANCHISE

NEW MONDAY, 10PM, 10.40PM & 11.15PM, SKY COMEDY COMEDY

Prepare to be plunged into a whirlwind of big-screen epics, ego-driven film stars and stressed-out crew members as Sky Comedy's new workplace satire shines a spotlight on the behind-the-scenes chaos involved with making a superhero movie.

Created by Jon Brown (Succession) with The Thick of It showrunner Armando Iannucci and Oscar-winning director Sir Sam Mendes (American Beauty) serving as executive producers, glossy eight-part The Franchise takes us backstage at (fictional) Maximum Studios as a dedicated, if somewhat dysfunctional, team work tirelessly to produce Tecto: Eye of the Storm, the latest film in their unloved comic-book-inspired fantasy saga.

At the heart of the backlot action is first assistant director Daniel (played by ex-EastEnders actor turned Hollywood star Himesh Patel), who is under pressure to deliver a blockbuster on schedule, while also trying to juggle everything from drunk sound guys to supporting artists having panic attacks.

'It's good for us to turn the lens back on ourselves,' says Himesh, 34, whose film credits include Yesterday (2019), Tenet (2020) and Don't Look Up (2021). 'The series might be about a big superhero franchise, but it picks up on a lot of the absurdities of our industry in general. I was really interested in that.'

Here, Himesh, along with co-stars Jessica Hynes (There She Goes), 51, and Lolly Adefope (Ghosts), 34, tell us why their show is set to be a box-office hit...

PETER

RICHARD E. GRANT
Classically trained, the actor thinks playing the movie's arch villain is beneath him.

PAT

DARREN GOLDSTEIN
The high-ranking, pragmatic exec is monitoring the movie's progression closely.

DAG

LOLLY ADEFOPE
New to the team, the third assistant director has big ambitions for her career.

Lights, camera, PANIC!

DANIEL*HIMESH PATEL

The dedicated first assistant director battles to keep everyone happy.

ERIC*DANIEL BRÜHL

Pretentious to his core, the moody director blames any mishaps on his colleagues.

ANITA*AYA CASH

The producer must navigate a fine line to keep the studio and the creatives happy.

ADAM*BILLY MAGNUSSEN

Tecto's leading man hopes his star turn will open bigger doors for him.

HIMESH PATEL*ONPLAYING DANIEL

So, Himesh, what insights can you share about your character?

As first assistant director, Daniel is in charge of everything going right or going wrong during production. He's trying to manage these wrenches that are being thrown into the process by the studio, which seems to be trying to dismantle the movie!

How has his job affected his life outside of the studio?

Behind the scenes, Daniel's life is falling apart. He's going through a divorce and is failing to be a father because he's addicted to his work. You start to wonder why he keeps doing such a thankless job, but, as the show goes on, you see his ambitions start to emerge, which is an interesting part of his development.

The things we see go wrong during the making of Tecto: Eye of the Storm are quite ridiculous, aren't they?

Yes, some of them are utterly preposterous, but Jon Brown and the other writers told us they were all based on their research and stories people had told them.

Others are strange in a different way – I remember once hearing a tale about the doors on Star Wars, which you assume are very high-tech, because they make a cool sound when they open. But it's actually just two guys on either side pushing them and pulling them. Everything's a facade!

LOLLY ADEFOPE*ONPLAYING DAG

Where do we find Dag when we meet her, Lolly?

It's her first day working as a third assistant director, so she really gets thrown in at the deep end and quickly has to catch up on all the chaos. She wants to skip forward a few steps and jump ahead of Daniel as a big studio exec. She doesn't really care about Tecto, or any part of that superhero world, but she knows she wants to be at the top. Dag also says whatever she thinks – she has no filter!

Was it a strange process making a TV series about the making of a movie?

It was a bit confusing at times – we were always getting the Tecto tent and our tent mixed up, plus I think the Tecto movie got better treatment than we did! Isaac Powell, who plays Bryson [the assistant to Shane, the mysterious head of Maximum Studios], told me people kept thinking he was part of the film crew, because his character wears a lanyard!

What most impressed you about this show?

One of the best things about it is the combination of comedy and the grand cinematic scale. It's a perfect blend of the two, and I hope people enjoy that perspective of the film industry.

JESSICA HYNES*ONPLAYING STEPH

How does Steph fit into the production of Tecto, Jessica?

She's the script supervisor, so it's her job to keep track of every single shot taken, which shots they need and which shots the director will favour and so on.

I worked so hard to understand what her duties are, but it was a long way out of my comfort zone. I know I could never keep on top of it in real life.

Is there a message at the centre of The Franchise?

It might be a comedy, but the people making Tecto aren't buffoons. They all know how to do their jobs to a high standard, but the show explores what it's like to try to function within an enormous behemoth of a system with so many cogs turning. Something's being filmed over here, and something's being filmed over there, and departments sometimes speak to each other, and sometimes they don't. So, what is creativity in that situation, and can you fulfil your creative potential?

What did you enjoy most about making this show?

Usually on set you might be wearing spandex and high heels, and I'm always envious of people who get to wear walking shoes and jeans to do their job. So I really appreciated Steph's comfortable clothes!

Troubled WATERS

LISA DWAN on playing a defiant detective looking for answers about the past

BLACKSHORE

NEW SAT, 9PM, U&DRAMA DRAMA (BOX SET, U)

Lisa Dwan is the first to admit that her haunted crime-fighter, DI Fia Lucey, makes quite an impression in the opening scene of Irish noir Blackshore. 'She breaks someone's nose – and isn't apologetic!' explains the Bloodlands star, joining TV Times for an exclusive interview ahead of the six-parter's arrival on U&Drama this week. 'I fell in love with her straight away!'

Written by Kate O'Riordan (Smother), the mystery begins with ambitious Fia working in Dublin, but, after a series of allegations about her conduct, she's banished to rural Blackwater. It's a place uncomfortably close to her (fictional) home town of Blackshore, where tragedy befell the community two decades ago when Fia's father killed everyone in her family except her in a murder-suicide after he was linked to the disappearance of a local teenage girl.

Here, Lisa tells us more...

What appealed to you about playing Fia?

I read the first script in one sitting and my heart was pounding. Fia's driven to uncover the truth whatever the cost – and it costs her massively.

How do the locals react to her return?

She's treated like a pariah, and she creates waves wherever she goes. After what happened with her father, she fled to join the police, and this is her first time back. She still bears scars from that, but she also feels she has to answer unanswered questions...

Fia is paired with DI Cian Furlong (Rory Keenan) to crack a new missing-persons case and she soon makes a disturbing connection with the past, doesn't she?

Yes, without revealing too much, Fia finds herself investigating the ghosts of her past alongside doing her job. Being a lone wolf is her prize talent, because she can remain removed enough to examine everything.

Grim discovery: Fia and Cian with colleague Myreen

Your character

favours the understated look. What can you tell us about that?

I said I'd like no make-up, because lipstick just gets in the way of a good story! I wanted the pores to be visible, but, as time went on, I was kind of regretting that decision!

Does this mark your first leading TV role?

I started out as a child actress in a big American TV series, Mystic Knights of Tir Na Nog, where I was a lead [Lisa played Deirdre/Mystic Knight of Air in the children's fantasy saga, which ran from 1998 to 1999]. But I didn't know what that meant!

Being No.1 on a call sheet is a responsibility, because Fia's in nearly every scene. But it stretches you – had I not had this role, I wouldn't have bothered learning how to drive.

Wait! You learnt to drive for this project?

[Laughing] Well, the thing is, actors are used to lying about things like being able to ride a horse, so I lied that I could drive! When I got the part, they were emphatic about having a full driving licence, so I did four-hour lessons a day for two and a half weeks until I passed.

So, if the opportunity arose, would you be up for a second series?

Absolutely! I think we've made something very special with a confident Irish identity and character-led stories that are universal.

BLACKSHORE is previewed on p36-37

Icing on the CAKE

JO BRAND and TOM ALLEN on their spin-off show that gives Bake Off fans another bite of heaven

THE GREAT BRITISH BAKE OFF: AN EXTRA SLICE

THURSDAY, 8PM, C4 COOKERY

When Jo Brand and Tom Allen join TV Times for an exclusive interview, it's clear how much they relish being at the heart of The Great British Bake Off's irreverent companion show.

'I think our viewers are like me and Tom – a bit useless at baking but happy to laugh at how hopeless we are,' smiles Jo, 67, who has helmed An Extra Slice since its debut on BBC2 back in 2014 and followed it, three years later, to its current C4 home.

'Yes,' agrees Tom, 41, who joined the team in 2018. 'If you take baking seriously, you watch Bake Off, and if you don't, you watch us – it's the perfect balance!'

This week's portion sees the comedians, helped as always by a celebrity panel and a studio audience, dissect the delights of Bake Off's Pastry Week (airing on Tuesday 22 October, see pages 66–67), which includes a frangipane tart Signature challenge that leaves judge Dame Prue Leith drooling.

Here, Jo and Tom spill the baking beans on their spin-off show's recipe for success...

We like to think of your show as Bake Off's naughty little sibling – is that fair?!

JO We're definitely the naughty little something! We're in the tradition of after-shows where you see the debris of what really went on in the actual show – and we slightly rib it!

TOM We alleviate some of the tension of the tent and it's so nice to have a bit of fun. Bake Off is so revered by people, it's part of society. Sometimes I think it's one of the few things that keeps everyone ticking over!

Why do you think An Extra Slice has proved so popular with audiences?

JO I think when it comes to cake-making, most of us are less artistic and more car crash – which are the bakes we celebrate! People send us pictures of their cake disasters, which viewers love to see.

TOM It's almost like celebrating failure, isn't it? In a good way. There's a lot of stress in the world and the news is upsetting – I think people need to have a bit of a laugh about cake.

This week sees presenters AJ Odudu and Alexander Armstrong, plus EastEnders star Natalie Cassidy, on the panel. How do you attract so many big names?

JO Why is that, Tom? I think it's because of you...

TOM No! I think stars just like coming on and being a fan. It's a bit like a book club – if you like something, you want to talk about it with other fans.

You had Prue on the show on 17 October, with Paul Hollywood due to appear later in the run. Do you have to act all serious when the judges come on?

JO No! They're always up for a laugh.

Game for a laugh: Bake Off judges Prue and Paul

TASTE TEST

Jo and Tom answer five quick-fire questions...

FAVOURITE CAKE?

JO Victoria sponge.

TOM Red velvet cake.

FAVOURITE PASTRY?

JO A school pudding called gypsy tart, made from dark sugar and evaporated milk.

TOM Tarte au citron.

FAVOURITE SAVOURY SNACK?

JO Does a baked potato count? If not, then a cheese straw.

TOM I like a fancy Scotch egg, with a runny yolk. I'm sophisticated!

FAVOURITE BISCUIT?

JO I like a custard cream.

TOM A chocolate digestive.

FAVOURITE TV JUDGE?

TOM For me, it's Paul because he took me out in his fast car...

JO For me, it's Prue because she took me out on her tandem!

TOM Obviously, they have to be strict for Bake Off, but they're both lovely people. Paul looks like an Action Man, but he's not scary at all!

Pastry Week will see the remaining bakers tackle frangipane tarts for the Signature challenge, a flaky Technical task and a choux-filled Paris-Brest for the Showstopper. What's your favourite theme this year?

TOM I like whatever the weird week is, like Industrial Revolution Week – is that a thing?

JO No, but we've got 1970s Week coming up. I lived through the 1970s and don't remember obsessing about cakes. I loved Angel Delight, but that was a treat in our house. Instead we had Instant Whip, which cost less and was always lumpy. It was like blancmange with depression.

Do you both have a sweet tooth working on this show?

TOM I used to, but I seem to have become more savoury – some would say bitter – as I've got older...

JO You've got to wait another 15 years until you're at that stage, Tom – then you come round to mine and we can have a whale of a time slating everything! I'm more of a savoury person. I think cakes are too fancy. The only cake I really like is a Victoria sponge.

TOM Sorry to be controversial, but Victoria sponges are very boring!

JO But I'm boring, Tom! Maybe that's why I like them. I can't bear cakes with fruit – what a waste of time!

We're not sure you're going to like the next Bake Off episode, Autumn Week, Jo, as the cakes will have vegetables in them...

JO That's a ridiculous idea!

TOM What sort of vegetables – onions? Oh, carrot cake – yes, well, cakes like that are really just holders for the frosting that goes on top. That's all people really want!

Ha! What's the worst cake that's been brought in by a member of your studio audience?

JO A courgette cake that wasn't mixed well, so the middle was a swamp of slimy, congealed courgette!

TOM The oddest one was from a doctor representing acne. It was a huge spot – disgusting, absolutely horrendous!

The photos of bakes that people send in are always great fun! Any favourites?

JO I love the bakes of people's dogs that look nothing like the real thing. And I like the ones of Tom, too...

TOM Hmm, bakes of us are never that flattering, although I'm quite easy to do. A boiled egg dropped on a barber's floor is the look, I think!

Finally, how are your own baking skills after years of presenting this show?

TOM I'd say worse than ever. I have a sugar thermometer, but I'm afraid to use it!

JO My neighbours kindly gave me some cooking apples last week, so I felt obliged to use them and made a hideous-looking apple pie. They looked very distressed when I handed it to them!

of a role

KERRY GODLIMAN on why her seaside sleuth Pearl Nolan is a perfect fit

Partners in crime-fighting: Are there still sparks between Pearl and Mike?

We're delighted Whitstable Pearl is back, Kerry! How pleased were you to reprise the role of Pearl?

It was lovely, and has got the feeling now of putting on an old jumper. I'm so glad we've made this third season. I really like Pearl's journey and the way she's evolving. In the beginning, she was a fledgling detective, but now she's confident and established.

Why do you think this show has proved such a hit with viewers?

There's a charm and warmth to it that fans connect with. And I love the juxtaposition of humour and drama. The cases can be dark, but they're not relentlessly grim. It's a lovely balance.

So, where do we find Pearl as we rejoin the action?

She's in a good place. Pearl is very content with teacher Tom Grant [played by Robert Webb]; they've been going out for a while now and she's very relaxed in that relationship, despite what her mum Dolly [Frances Barber] says! Meanwhile, Pearl's son Charlie [Rohan Nedd] is away exploring Canada.

Pearl feels liberated by this new chapter. And she's busy, too. The Whitstable Pearl restaurant is thriving, plus she's got loads of mysteries to solve!

We're guessing this new-found harmony doesn't last for long, though...

Who wants to watch a drama where everyone is happy?! The writers are determined to put a fly in the ointment! While Pearl enjoys the comfort and security of her relationship with Tom, she still loves flirting, arguing and solving crimes with Mike. There's a fabulous little love triangle bubbling away!

Can you share any clues about the opening case?

It's about a troubled soul called Gemma, who's been missing for seven years and is assumed dead. But, while taking pictures on Whitstable Beach, local photographer Izzy [The Crown's Penny Downie] becomes convinced she's spotted Gemma and comes to Pearl...

Among the guest stars for this series are Jaye Jacobs, Larry Lamb and Vicki Michelle. You must be thrilled that the show is attracting such good names?

Totally – I love finding out who they've cast as the guest leads! Also, look out for [Fisherman's Friends star] Dave Johns and the brilliant Kate Robbins, who I worked with on [Netflix comedy drama] After Life, while [Grantchester's] Kacey Ainsworth is very entertaining playing a psychic!

Do you have a favourite filming location?

I love the Whitstable Pearl restaurant set. There are tweaks that happen every time it's rebuilt. In Season 1, there was a staircase that didn't go anywhere, so they did away with that in Season 2. This time, they've created another bar and a little cubby area with a real fireplace and sofas. It feels like you're in a real seaside pub!

Whitstable Pearl sounds like a lot of fun to make. Would you love for there to be a fourth series?

It would be an honour. It is everyone's dream to play a private detective, and I love the vibes of the show, from all the relationships to Pearl's desire to right wrongs. It's the Agatha Christie tradition of an elbows-out woman in a small town fixing problems!

WHITSTABLE PEARL is previewed on pages 56-57

WHITSTABLE PEARL

NEW FROM MONDAY 21 OCTOBER, ACORN TV DRAMA (RELEASED WEEKLY)

Kerry Godliman's eyes light up when TV Times reveals that we've prepared a long list of questions for her about coastal whodunnit Whitstable Pearl.

'I love that! I operate in lists, they are one of my favourite things – I once had a BBC Radio 4 show called Kerry's List. So let's tick 'em off!' grins the actor, 50, who has played restaurateur and super-sleuth Pearl Nolan since the show's launch on Acorn TV in 2021.

The third series, which makes its debut on the streaming service this week, is again inspired by Julie Wassmer's collection of novels, with the six episodes blending curious cases, glorious guest stars, lovely locations and a winsome 'will they, won't they?' between Pearl and gruff cop DCI Mike McGuire (Howard Charles).

Here, in an exclusive interview, Kerry shares her thoughts on why, in a sea of crime dramas, the Kent-set mystery has moored a place in people's hearts...

'I REALLY LIKE THE WAY PEARL IS EVOLVING'

Seeing the future: Kacey Ainsworth is a psychic in the second episode

PEARLS OF WISDOM

Kerry's guide to what lies ahead for the other main players this series...

DCI MIKE MCGUIRE

PLAYED BY HOWARD CHARLES

Following a three-month sabbatical, the widower returns to Whitstable with a new calm demeanour and positive attitude...

'You're meant to think Mike's a changed man, but he quickly reverts to his nature,' laughs Kerry. 'Pearl fancies him and that frisson is the steam that motors the show's engine.'

TOM GRANT

PLAYED BY ROBERT WEBB

Pearl's boyfriend finds himself sidelined as her caseload increases and Mike returns, but he wants to take the next step in their relationship.

'He adores Pearl,' says Kerry. 'Unfortunately, he feels she's out of his league, so that insecurity niggles away for him.'

CHARLIE NOLAN

PLAYED BY ROHANNEDD

There's a reason Pearl dislikes her son's father, which is cemented when her ex's criminal actions land her lad on the wrong side of the law.

'Pearl thinks Charlie is having a good time in Canada with his dad,' teases Kerry. 'But it becomes clear that she needs to intervene!'

DOLLY NOLAN

PLAYED BY FRANCES BARBER

With Pearl distracted by matters of the heart and concerns for Charlie, her astute mum keeps everything ticking over on the home front.

'We'll see her stepping up with the detective agency and the restaurant,' says Kerry. 'Pearl's happy to let Dolly take the reins.'

DS NIKKI MARTEL

PLAYED BY SOPHIA DEL PIZZO

Mike's colleague is rocked when she suspects her retired-detective mum, Janet (Kate Robbins), is connected to police corruption.

'Nikki's a great character - wry, dry, plucky and ambitious,' says Kerry. 'It's a real treat to see Kate play Nikki's mum.'

RUBY WILLIAMS

PLAYED BY ISOBELLE MOLLOY

The single life gives Charlie's ex-girlfriend time to tap into her culinary and musical skills.

'Ruby's like a surrogate daughter to Pearl,' smiles Kerry. 'There is a hilarious The Sound of Music through line - with someone in full glory as Mother Superior!'

Setting sail:
Captain Massey,
Max, Avery
and Tristan

The doctor will SEA YOU NOW!

What to expect from a glossy saga set on a high-end cruise ship...

DOCTOR ODYSSEY

NEW FROM THU 24 OCT, DISNEY+
DRAMA (FIRST TWO EPS FROM 24 OCT, THEN WEEKLY)

All aboard! It's time to embark on a high-seas adventure as Disney+ launches a lavish new medical drama, Doctor Odyssey.

The 18-part series stars Dawson's Creek favourite Joshua Jackson as suave Dr Max Bankman, a brilliant emergency-room medic who upends his life to set sail as the new doctor on The Odyssey, a luxury cruise ship catering for honeymooners and holidaying retirees.

But it's all hands on deck for Max and his dedicated nursing team comprising Avery Morgan (Dopesick's Phillipa Soo) and Tristan Silva (Mr Selfridge's Sean Teale) as they deal with unique medical crises in the middle of the ocean, while also navigating love triangles, personality clashes and behind-the-scenes dramas.

'Every episode has a lot happening and that's part of the fun – the show is meant to have that pace,' says Joshua, 46.

'We're definitely a medical show, and each week we have cases – or multiple cases, actually. But what the show is also about is camaraderie and people trying to find family, and the people you choose rather than the people you're born into.'

MATTERS OF THE HEART

The opening episode begins with Max being hired by Captain Robert Massey (Miami Vice's Don Johnson), before being thrown in at the deep end with a bizarre case of a patient suffering from iodine poisoning after eating too much shrimp cocktail!

Later in the run, the team will also face medical hurdles arising from plastic surgery and passengers falling overboard as well as broken heart syndrome, a heart condition often brought on by stressful situations.

Each episode promises to welcome on board big-name guest stars, such as John Stamos (Full House), Tom McGowan (Frasier) and even singer Shania Twain, whose character sets her sights on Captain Massey!

Meanwhile, a rather complicated love triangle also develops between Max, Avery and Tristan, especially as the crew likes to live by the mantra: 'Work like a captain, play like a pirate!'

'There is a shimmer, a glimmer, a sparkle between the three of them that's very personal to their relationship,' says Phillipa, 34. 'I think that came easy to us because it's what we bring to the table when we're working together.'

'But this is one of those shows where it's literally an escape, going on this cruise ship and having an adventure. I hope it can also be an escape for viewers, and that they feel like they've taken a tiny, mini-vacation.'

LIFE OF LUXURY

Part of the escapist feel of the series comes from the magnificent sets and glamorous costumes, although the show was actually filmed on set in Los Angeles rather than taking to the seas!

'I've never actually been on a cruise, I have to admit that,' says Joshua. 'If we were filming on an actual cruise ship, it would make it very hard for me to drop my daughter off at school in the morning!'

'But I don't think I've ever

Chemistry: Avery and Max

Under pressure: The team deal with many medical crises worked on a prettier show – the boat, the clothes and the people all look incredible. Right from the start, you enter into this beautiful walkway that brings you into our grand entrance hallway.

‘The ballroom is also really opulent, but I think the upper deck is the most elaborate set I’ve ever seen in my life and the staterooms are gorgeous. I mean, we have fresh-cut flowers – I’ve been working for a little while now and I’ve never seen that before! No detail is overlooked. The whole team has really knocked it out of the park!’

NEW EXCLUSIVE

SHAZAD LATIF on creating an origin story for a classic adventurer

NAUTILUS

NEW FROM FRIDAY 25 OCTOBER, PRIME VIDEO FANTASY DRAMA

Dive into an epic journey beneath the waves as glossy fantasy drama Nautilus swims on to Prime Video this week.

Inspired by Jules Verne’s 1870 sci-fi novel Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea, which saw scientific genius Captain Nemo chart the ocean depths in a revolutionary submarine, the 10-part series imagines an origin story for the enigmatic figure, with Penny Dreadful star Shazad Latif cast in the leading role.

‘Nemo is an Indian prince who has been robbed of his birthright,’ says the actor, 36, as he joins TV Times for an exclusive chat. ‘In other adaptations, this character is quite mysterious, but we’re going to explore what happened to this guy, and how he ended up becoming who he is.’

The tale begins in 1857, with Nemo being held captive in a penal colony run by the East India Company, a powerful British trade corporation. When an opportunity arises to seize the Nautilus submarine, which Nemo helped to build, he and some of his fellow prisoners use it to make a daring escape.

Shortly afterwards, the vessel collides with a ship transporting a reluctant Humility Lucas (Apples Never Fall’s Georgia Flood) to Bombay, where she’s due to be married. Although she’s excited by the prospect of having adventures in a submarine instead, she’s less enthused about its captain...

‘They hate each other from the start!’ laughs Shazad. ‘One reason is that there’s probably a subconscious attraction that they don’t want to admit to, but they’re also both very clever, quite arrogant people. There’s a competitiveness in their intelligence – they’re both always trying to be right.’

But we develop that relationship throughout the series, and they realise they have a common enemy.’

Not all of the action takes place underwater, as the Nautilus regularly surfaces in a variety of spectacular locations while Nemo, Humility and their shipmates continue their quest for freedom.

‘There’s a great snow episode – that was really fun!’ smiles Shazad. ‘We also visit a kind of Viking land and go to the jungle, too!’

Filming for the series took place in Queensland, Australia, where a huge submarine set was built at the Village Roadshow Studios on the Gold Coast, and Shazad found the level of detail in the production helped with his performance.

‘We filmed for about 190 days, so it was pretty intense,’ he recalls. ‘But it was an amazing place to work. We got to learn how to breathe underwater properly, and the submarine set itself was unreal!’

NAUTILUS is previewed on pages 96–97

RIVALS

FROM FRIDAY 18 OCTOBER,
DISNEY+ DRAMA

Soapy, scandal-fuelled drama Rivals is packed to the rafters with lustful power players in the ruthless world of 1980s television. However, among the many entanglements is a genuine, sweet-natured pair who can't deny their sizzling connection.

Self-made electronics magnate Freddie Jones (played by ex-EastEnders star Danny Dyer) and romantic novelist Lizzie Vereker (Here We Go's Katherine Parkinson) instantly click, while their spouses, snobbish Valerie (Mum's Lisa McGrillis) and TV presenter James (Miss Scarlet and the Duke's Oliver Chris), are more concerned with climbing Rutshire's social ladder. Could true love blossom?

Here, in an exclusive interview, Danny, 47, and Katherine, 46, chat to TV Times about playing the star-crossed duo in the eight-parter, which is based on Dame Jilly Cooper's 1988 novel...

How do Freddie and Lizzie fit into Rivals' world of eccentric characters?

DANNY There are a lot of vulgar characters in this show, but like Lizzie, Freddie is one of the more likeable ones. He's got a good heart, and he's a rich man who's well ahead of his time. He's uncomfortable with the people he's now surrounded by, but then he meets Lizzie and they become fascinated with each other.

KATHERINE Lizzie's a talented writer, but it's not always plain sailing, and her husband is not exactly her cheerleader. She's balancing motherhood, writing and also nurturing James' career in a way that was maybe more of a priority in the 1980s. I feel like she's based on Jilly... I mean, Jilly did say, 'You're playing me!'

Jilly serves as an executive producer on Rivals. Did she share any pointers?

KATHERINE It was lovely having her on set, and for somebody of her stature and what she's achieved, she's self-deprecating. She's got something that I tried to capture in Lizzie, in that she's interested in everybody. Jilly wants to know about your life in a really generous way.

DANNY Jilly made a beeline for me at the script read-through. She loves Freddie, so I think she had to approve of me, and her way of doing that was giving me a cuddle and telling me how handsome I was. She was on set with her little notebook, too, but she let us get on with it.

Raunchy scenes are expected in her stories, but were you apprehensive about that?

KATHERINE There was a time when you would be terrified because you felt you had no say in how things went, but times have changed. There was more than one intimacy coordinator on set and everyone was extremely respectful. It's a massive change that's happened recently in our industry, and it's extremely welcome.

DANNY It's all about intent and it's done in the right way. We all trusted and looked after each other. We really bonded during the six months filming in Bristol. It was a beautiful thing.

What was it like revisiting the 1980s?

DANNY The 80s is a decade like no other, especially with the look, and I think we've pulled it right out of the bag. There's also a great scene where Freddie brings out a karaoke machine and everyone's like, 'What is that?' This was early in the process, by the way, and I had to belt out Meat Loaf's Bat Out of Hell in front of the cast. Heartfelt, the whole thing.

KATHERINE Danny and I were around in the 80s and it really resonated when we saw the clothes. I like Lizzie's wardrobe because it's so ghastly!

RIVALS is previewed on pages 36-37

TOO CLOSE for comfort

Dee-Dee panics about Lauren moving in... Is she hiding something?

Supportive: Max visits Lauren at the baby unit open up her home to the single mum. But the solicitor seems troubled when Lauren calls round with flowers to say thank you for her kind gesture. And when Lauren's social worker later visits to discuss the arrangements, Dee-Dee's left shaken when she goes into the kitchen to make tea and finds an old love note from Joel.

Clearly, she's having second thoughts about having Lauren for a roomie... But is this because Lauren is a constant reminder of Joel's sordid 'other' life, or because she's hiding a killer secret and doesn't want Lauren to catch on?

Dee-Dee isn't the only person acting suspiciously – Max is avoiding Bobby, and his pal wants answers. Calling round at No.8, he finds Max with Lauren, and though the pair insist they're not ghosting him, Bobby demands to know what they're hiding. They were on red alert on the night of Joel's murder. Could they be responsible for bumping him off?

All this is for Kit to sort, as he's leading the investigation. On the day of Joel's funeral, the copper is in Roy's Rolls at the same time as Dee-Dee and clocks that her behaviour is a bit shifty. His colleague Lisa doesn't believe Dee-Dee is capable of killing Joel... But does Kit think otherwise?

Life is starting to pick up for Lauren – baby Frankie is almost ready to be discharged from hospital, the tot's evil dad Joel is gone for good, and she's soon to have a place she can call home. But her happy ending may be about to come a cropper.

Dee-Dee, you'll recall, made a spur-of-the-moment decision a few weeks ago to

THE LONG GOODBYE

Wanting what's best for Sam, who's struggling with Nick and Leanne's split, Lee and Toyah pack their bags and leave Victoria Court this week so that father and son can have the space to rebuild their relationship and move on.

For Leanne, it's particularly tough, having lived at the property for years. She and her now ex-fiancé are forced to go through the painful process of divvying up their belongings, and she struggles to hold back tears as she prepares to leave; the flat holding so many memories of her late son Oliver.

Reflecting on recent weeks, Nick apologises for how things have ended between them. Will he come to realise that his fling with Toyah was a mistake, or are his feelings for Lee's sister still very much alive?

Time to go: Leanne is leaving Nick and Sam's flat

Gail's TURMOIL

The stressed mum is rushed to hospital as she struggles to breathe

It's a wonder Gail Rodwell never went off to that retirement complex where Ken Barlow and Norris Cole once lived, because life on the cobbles with The Omen child and co seems to leave her in a permanent state of stress.

Things are no different this week, and as Gail struggles with the endless agg, she's struck down with breathlessness and crippling pains in her arm, and has to be blue-lighted to hospital.

Bethany's recent botched cosmetic surgery has, undoubtedly, put a huge strain on the family. With no other option on the table, Gail is selling her house to settle her granddaughter's eye-watering medical bills.

But Bethany's rash decision to have liposuction in Turkey is only part of the problem. Gail's got herself a new fella, Eileen Grimshaw's ex Jesse Chadwick, and Sarah and David don't approve; reckoning it's going to end the same way as their mother's other relationships – in disaster.

'Jesse has changed dramatically; he's very remorseful for his past behaviour,' says actor John Thomson, whose character memorably betrayed Eileen by making a pass at her sister. 'But he's going to have to work hard to get David and Sarah onside, because there's a real sense of mistrust about his motives.'

Gail despairs as Jesse, Sarah and David have an argument, which escalates into a blazing row. Fed up to the back teeth with her kids, she orders them out of the house.

Jesse then turns his attention to Gail's granddaughter Lily, whose bike has a flat tyre. But as he scours the house for a pump, he makes a shock discovery under the stairs. Hmm, could it be the AWOL wonga that dodgy Damon left for Sarah?

The ex-children's entertainer is intrigued, but before he can ask any questions, he sees Gail gasping for breath and in obvious pain. He immediately calls 999, and Gail is whisked away in an ambulance as guilt-ridden Sarah and David blame themselves for her sorry state.

Gail, you may recall, had a heart attack back in 2021. Is her ticker playing up once again? And if so, will she survive a second time, or is the street stalwart headed for Weatherfield heaven?

Emergency: Jesse calls an ambulance for breathless Gail

WEATHERFIELD EXTRA

John Thomson has revealed that his return to Coronation Street as Jesse Chadwick proved challenging, as he initially struggled to keep up with the fast pace of filming the ITV1 soap.

'I was a bit shell-shocked when I first came in, because I'd forgotten the speed of the turnaround,' admits John, 55, who previously played Jesse from 2008 to 2010. 'It was a bit like crank handle starting a car after all these years.'

'Ben [Price, who plays Nick] said to me, "You do know we're all always word-perfect, don't you?" and I thought, "Oh, no." But, thank God, he was winding me up!

'My ability to learn lines at speed is getting better again, so it's not as daunting as it was.'

The men are at war when Ravi accuses Teddy's son Barney of assaulting Avani

There's a history of beef between the Panesars and the Mitchells, and this week, the two families are at it again. This time round, however, it's not Phil and Nish locking horns; rather their younger relatives Teddy and Ravi.

It all stems from a lie told by Ravi's mouthy daughter Avani. Ravi discovers she's been texting a boy, and is livid to think that some snotty teen is sniffing round his little girl. Confiscating Avani's phone, he asks baby mama Priya to help him get into it so he can find out the identity of the mystery adolescent.

Priya tells him to cool his jets, explaining that Avani has told her she's dating Teddy's son Barney. Ravi's appeased, as the lad looks like he'd rather be reading Dostoevsky than making out behind the bike sheds. But as he hands Avani her phone back, little does he realise that he and Priya have been played. As viewers (and Barney) know, Avani's boyfriend is, in fact, an 18-year-old called Mason.

Smug Avani then skips off for a meeting with Mase, but things turn sour when she refuses to sleep with him. The scumbag sends her packing, and Avani ends up with a busted lip.

Back on the Square, as Ravi and Priya are having a 'moment', Ravi spots Avani returning, bleeding and in tears.

'His No.1 priority is to comfort his daughter,' reveals Aaron Thiara, who plays the protective dad. 'But because of who Ravi is, we know that all hell is going to break loose!'

Assuming that Barney is to blame for the assault, Ravi makes a spectacle of the innocent bookworm...

'His main drive is to get Barney to confess,' says Aaron. 'Barney is telling the truth – that he's not responsible – but this infuriates Ravi even more.'

Enter pastel-jumpered Teddy, who ain't happy that Ravi's made a show of his boy, and he teams up with elder son Harry to teach the beefcake a lesson he'll never forget...

The Panesars are apoplectic, but as they discuss how to retaliate, Suki insists she doesn't want any more of her relatives behind bars. She and Nish then meet up with Teddy, hoping to nip the feud in the bud.

But will Teddy be prepared to call a truce?

My son, the MONSTER

Kat admits to Alfie that Tommy is hurting her

Not many people can frighten Kat Slater, but one resident has been managing it in spades – her own son Tommy. The once kind-hearted lad has gone off the rails in recent months, and attempts by Kat to curb his bad behaviour are all too often ending with him violently lashing out.

This week, as Kat recovers from another physical assault, the despondent mum reveals the truth to Alfie.

Kat has been hiding away at home following Tommy's latest outburst, and she's thrown when Alfie arrives back early from his Minute Mart training course in Birmingham. As he spots a bruise on her, she lies that she got it on a boozy night out with Stacey.

But when Alfie chats to Stacey in The Vic, he realises Kat has fed him a porky. He then discovers the truth when he overhears Kat chastising Tommy for using her credit card without permission when she has just lied to Alfie to protect him. As Alfie demands answers, Kat is forced to admit that Tommy injured her.

Alfie's gutted to realise that his attempt to get through to Tommy has been an abject failure, and the former couple are at their wits' end when Tommy ends up scrapping with Freddie during dinner, and causing carnage.

The situation then spirals when Freddie finds himself under the spotlight at the Slater house, where suspicious Jean wonders if he's keeping a secret for Kat.

Under pressure, will Kat admit to her rellies what Tommy has been doing? And if so, will one of them take matters into their own hands?

Painful realisation: Alfie, Tommy and Kat

Blackmail plot: Harry and Penny conspire

A DUO AND AN AGENDA...

Although the Brannings now know that Penny didn't cause the crush at Peggy's, she's still angry about the way her dad Jack has treated her. With lover Harry also no fan of the copper, the duo team up to blackmail Jack, who's left rattled by Harry's terms.

Later, when Harry gets riled further, he tells Jack that the deadline for his demands has been brought forward. Aware that his career is on the line, Jack reluctantly agrees to turn a blind eye to Harry's dodgy dealings. But is this really the end of things, or have Harry and Pen got him by the short and curlies?

WALFORD EXTRA

The Mitchell family is due to get another member. Laura Doddington, who has had roles in the likes of Doctors and Holby City, has been cast as Teddy's ex-wife Nicola, who will arrive in Walford later in the autumn on a mission to build bridges with estranged sons Harry and Barney.

'Like all the great Mitchell women, Nicola is feisty, strong and loves her family,' says show boss Chris Clenshaw. 'She and Teddy share a very complicated history, which will be fun to explore.'

Laura adds, 'Nicola is a complex woman, who comes in like the Tasmanian Devil!'

Worried: Lydia and Sam find Belle in a desperate state

Belle's BREAKDOWN

Her ordeal with Tom finally takes its toll on her mental health

Belle King has spent years living with schizophrenia, a mental-health condition that can cause hallucinations and delusions and which she developed in her teens after being imprisoned for accidentally killing her friend Gemma.

Stressful life events have proved a major trigger for the former wedding planner's episodes, as her family are all too aware, and this week the trauma of recent months comes to a head as she sadly but somewhat inevitably suffers another breakdown.

Already fragile due to the mental and physical abuse inflicted on her by husband Tom, Belle has been further knocked by the death of her beloved dad Zak.

As she continues to grieve, she's devastated when Mandy lets slip that Cain had told Zak about her ordeal. She can't bear the thought of the pair talking about her behind her back, nor of Zak going to his grave 'burdened' with worry.

The following day, meanwhile, she's left further reeling when a bunch of condolence flowers arrives for her with no note. Belle immediately concludes that Tom's playing mind games, and she furiously confronts him.

Before long, DS Foy turns up and arrests her for breaking her bail conditions – she was ordered to keep away from her ex in the wake of her recent axe attack on him. Over at the nick, she's then floored to be told that if she communicates with Tom again, she'll be sent to prison. Suddenly, it feels like she's the villain, not the victim.

Returning home, Belle does her best to appear calm, but it soon becomes apparent that she isn't coping.

Our Emmerdale mole reveals, 'Belle starts to hear voices again. Her head is a cacophony of noise, and the one voice she wants to hear more than anyone's – her dad Zak's – isn't there. She feels completely lost without him.'

'Sam and Lydia then find her in a really bad way. Belle is mentally very distressed, and they realise she has hit rock bottom.'

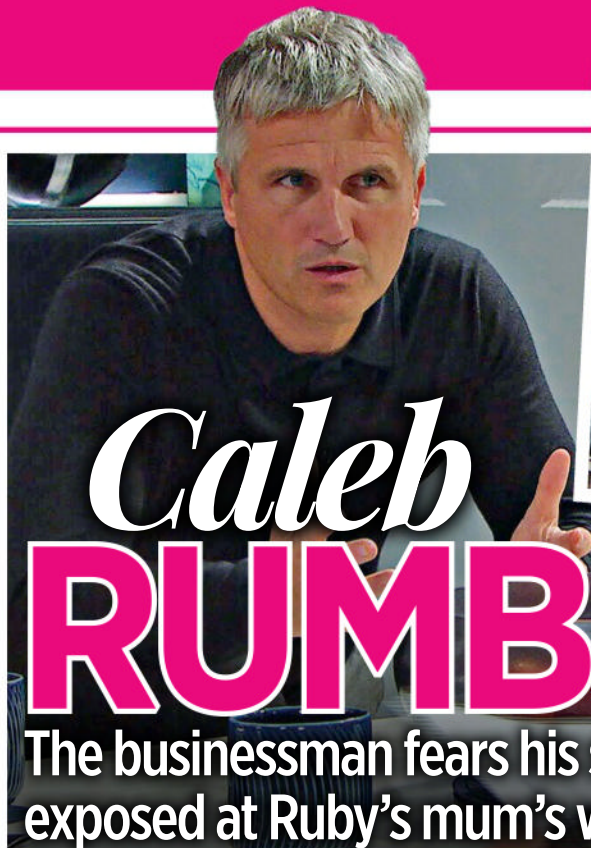

Can the pair get Belle the professional help she needs? And as vile Tom continues to make out to the police that Belle was unstable during their marriage and abused him, could her breakdown play straight into his hands?

'SHE STARTS TO HEAR VOICES AGAIN'

Abusive: Tom's behaviour has impacted Belle

Caleb RUMBLLED?

The businessman fears his secret will be exposed at Ruby's mum's will reading

Ruby was blindsided to learn last week that Caleb had secretly visited her estranged mum Helen shortly before she died. What she doesn't know is that's only the half of it. Taking advantage of Helen's desperation for a deathbed reconciliation with Ruby, Caleb wangled £100K out of the ailing socialite, and he has used the money to grow his business empire.

As Ruby and her husband attend Helen's will reading this week, Caleb is a nervous wreck, fearing his shady shenanigans will be exposed.

'He's pretty certain that it's going to be uncovered by Helen's solicitor, as an anomaly in her bank account,' reveals William Ash, who plays Caleb.

'He's at sixes and sevens and is thinking on his feet about how he can stop Ruby finding out.'

Caleb fears he's been rumbled when Ruby recoils while reading one of Helen's documents... But it's a false alarm. As the will reading then progresses, Ruby makes a shock discovery, but for a different reason – her mum was secretly in contact with Steph, her and Caleb's daughter, who, mysteriously, never got a mention up until about three weeks ago.

Caleb's hugely relieved to get through the day unscathed, but Ruby feels somewhat adrift, having no contact with any of her blood relations. Opening up to Chas, she tells her sister-in-law that the one saving grace is Caleb having provided her with a new family in the close-knit Dingles.

But is it just a matter of time before the full extent of Caleb's lies comes to light?

Disbelief: Ruby's shocked by what she learns

Aware that Claudia's car accident could cause big problems for the garage, Justin promises to service every part of her vehicle for free. Claudia takes up his offer, only for mechanic Theo to make things worse by admitting that he was to blame for not checking her brakes.

Claudia's furious, and when she lets rip about being unable to drive to work with her broken arm, Justin insists on being her chauffeur. However, he fails to tell his wife Leah about his plan.

Plus, Mackenzie and Levi clash over Abigail, new co-owner Cash ruffles feathers at Salt, and Harper is anxious about her pregnancy.

Damage control: Justin tries to placate Claudia

NEIGHBOURS

Krista is determined that the 'boy-lesque' charity event will be a success, despite the threat of protest action by some residents at Eirini Rising. As the men of Ramsay Street take to the stage to bare almost all, the audience goes wild for the raunchy entertainment.

The saucy shenanigans later lead to some unexpected passion, as Jane starts falling for ex-husband Vic again, estate agent Rhett makes a move on Aaron, and Andrew and Wendy indulge in a very public display of affection.

Also, Karl accuses Felix of theft, Nicolette and Byron need a new housemate, and will Terese continue to cover up her drinking?

Showstopper: The men take to the stage

A friend in need: Moira leans on pal Vanessa

HELP ME, VANESSA...

The shock death of Zak last week led to Moira turning down a slot at Hotten General to have her brain tumour removed so that she could be around to support Cain.

This week, she's given a new date for her surgery, but although she has long wanted rid of her 'unwanted house guest', she can't help but be terrified. The procedure isn't without risk, and even if things go to plan, she has a long period of recovery ahead.

Wanting to get her house in order, the worried farmer asks a big favour of pal Vanessa. But what is it? And will Vanessa oblige?

DALES EXTRA

Jay Kontzle has suggested that his character Billy Fletcher's underground boxing bouts could lead to a marriage split for him and Dawn. Billy has got involved in the illegal fights to make much-needed cash for his family.

Asked if he thinks Billy's big secret could break the Fletchers up, Jay, 34, tells us, 'Yes, I do. It's not great keeping secrets. And everyone always says that they will die for their family, but would you live for them?'

'He's risking his life, but Dawn wants him to be healthy and to be there for his family, and he's putting it all on the line. If she knew what's actually happening, I think she'd hit the roof.'

Call Jane

FILM4

9PM - 11.25PM ★★★★★

PREMIERE DRAMA Phyllis Nagy's confident, thought-provoking tale of a covert abortion network in 1968 Chicago usefully arrives just as women's reproductive rights have become a red-hot issue again in the US. Dropping Elizabeth Banks' posh, frightened housewife Joy into the nightmare of trying to illegally end a life-threatening pregnancy, it switches adroitly from melodrama to thriller mode once she's stumbled on The Janes, female activists providing safe, secret terminations. Nagy creates tense yet surprisingly jaunty drama from Joy's reluctant radicalisation, as Sigourney Weaver's charismatic Head Jane enlists her to help their hundreds of desperate clients. Dir: Phyllis Nagy 2022, 12

ANIMATION A lovingly crafted ghoulish fairy tale using stop-motion animation. Johnny Depp provides the voice of the fallow youth who finds himself betrothed to the title character (Helena Bonham Carter) and dragged down to live in the underworld. None of this is quite as morbid as it sounds, thanks to the film's witty script and cheerful sense of the absurd. Dirs: Mike Johnson, Tim Burton 2005, PG

The Secret Life of Pets 2

BBC1
3.35PM - 4.55PM ★★★
ANIMATION This animated sequel is another lively, good-humoured affair purporting to show us what pets get up to while their owners are away. The first film's leading animal characters are back, but this time they have largely separate adventures until the narrative pulls them together for a rousing, race-against-time climax. Dirs: Chris Renaud, Jonathan del Val 2019, U

COMEDY ADVENTURE Bizarrely sporting a wobbly Welsh accent, Robert Downey Jr assumes the mantle once worn by Rex Harrison and Eddie Murphy as the man who can talk to animals. This time around, Downey's widowed doctor is coaxed out of his reclusive grief and sets sail for a fabled island. The film aims for larky adventure, but the gags are zany without being particularly witty. Still, the talking animals are a lot of fun. Dir: Stephen Gaghan 2020, PG

THRILLER Supposedly happily married to Richard Gere, Diane Lane bumps into artist Olivier Martinez one day and embarks on a steamy affair – with fateful results. Marvellously well-observed and smoulderingly intense, this glossy, intelligent thriller is based on the 1968 French film La Femme Infidèle and boasts knockout performances from both Gere and Lane. Dir: Adrian Lyne 2002, 15

PREMIERE SCI-FI ACTION
When soldiers arrive from the future to reveal humanity will be wiped out by aliens, Chris Pratt's teacher is one of the new recruits propelled into the future to fulfil his seven-day tour-of-duty. The idea of suburban dads and soccer moms taking up arms to fight aliens is a lot of fun, but the film's let down a little by some clunky dialogue and a lack of genuine emotional heft. ### The Sting

LEGEND

1.30PM - 4PM ★★★★★

COMEDY Having established an easygoing all-star on-screen chemistry in Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid, it was inevitable that Paul Newman and Robert Redford would be cast opposite each other again. The result is a delightful caper movie that sees them playing conmen in 1930s Chicago out for revenge against ruthless mobster Robert Shaw. Dir: George Roy Hill 1973, PG

Popular: The Princess of Wales at the Wimbledon Men's Singles Final

Kate: In Her Own Words

NEW DOCUMENTARY 9.20PM, CHANNEL 5

This new feature-length documentary looks back at the Princess of Wales' public appearances and interviews, charting the progression from her first official speech in 2012, just a year after she married into one of the most famous families in the world. The film shows how, after being initially nervous, Kate went on to become more confident and embraced a number of causes close to her heart, and how her recent, very personal, video appearances giving updates on her cancer treatment have been unlike anything she – or anyone in the Royal Family – has done before. ★★★★★ JP

Hosting: Freddie and Valerie

Rivals DRAMA DISNEY+

If you've already begun watching the steamy saga based on Dame Jilly Cooper's bestseller and plan to continue over the weekend, episode two sees businessman Freddie (Danny Dyer) and his wife, Valerie (Lisa McGrillis), host Rutshire's high society at a dinner party. TV exec Tony (David Tennant) hopes to seduce Freddie onto the board at his franchise but gets a nasty surprise when he realises who's on the guest list. As Tony throws awkward jabs at his rival, lothario Rupert (Alex Hassell), between courses, Freddie finds a kindred spirit in his neighbour Lizzie (Katherine Parkinson). Will sparks fly for the electronics millionaire? ★★★★★ RM

NEW DOCUMENTARY 8.20PM, C4

This new documentary looks at a controversial period in British history in 1942 when a racially segregated US Army came to Britain – with Winston Churchill's government aware of the 'apartheid'. How were the tensions within the American military kept in check – and how did British people react to the racism? ★★★★★ JP

Murky waters: DI Fia Lucey investigates a rural murder

Blackshore NEW DRAMA 9PM, U&DRAMA (BOX SET, U)

Still waters run deep in this Irish crime drama, introducing us to defiant DI Fia Lucey as she's banished to her rural hometown after misconduct charges. Having fled the close-knit community years before in the wake of her dad's murder-suicide and his links to the disappearance of a teenager, Fia has something to prove as she investigates the murder of local hotelier Róisín Hurley. Unapologetically taking a deep dive into the picturesque backwater's ugly underbelly, she discovers disturbing connections between her past and the present, while star Lisa Dwan makes for a striking addition to the ranks of arresting female detectives. ★★★★★ ER

Who will top the leaderboard in tonight's show?

LIVE ENTERTAINMENT
6.25PM, BBC1

Even at this fairly early stage, it has become apparent that Strictly has assembled a cracking lineup of celebrity dancers this year. There are so many partnerships that have already wowed us or are showing real promise that this series is a delight to watch – and it seems judges Shirley Ballas, Anton Du Beke, Motsi Mabuse and Craig Revel Horwood agree. Actor Sarah Hadland and her pro-dancer partner Vito Coppola have been near the top of the leaderboard each week, with their Viennese waltz prompting Anton to tell Sarah, 'You're an exceptional ballroom dancer'. Does reigning champion Vito have his sights set on reaching a third consecutive final?

Painful memories:
Megan shares her story

Love Cheats NEW FACTUAL 9PM, C4

This four-part series on 'romance fraud' recounts shocking cases of scammers who have swindled their partners, often to the tune of thousands of pounds. In the first episode, Megan from the Isle of Wight reveals how she was wooed as a 20-year-old by Lord Bertie Underwood, a wealthy watch dealer who had just moved to the island. 'It really did feel like a dream come true,' she recalls, as she quickly fell in love, moved in with him and even started planning their wedding. But 'Bertie' turned out to be a serial fraudster who took out numerous loans in her name before he was finally caught, leaving Megan wondering: 'Was I just another business transaction to him?' Continues tomorrow. ★★★★★ JPM

Last dances: Claudia and Tess announce the bottom two

Strictly Come Dancing: The Results

ENTERTAINMENT 7.20PM, BBC1

After last night's performances, Claudia Winkleman and Tess Daly announce the results of the judges' scores and viewers' votes, with the bottom two couples heading into the dance-off. Who will survive to waltz into next week's Halloween special? ★★★★★ JPM

Behind the facade:
Harry Styles and Florence
Pugh as Jack and Alice

Don't Worry Darling

PREMIERE PSYCHOLOGICAL THRILLER PRIME VIDEO

The spirit of The Stepford Wives hangs over this 2022 drama which recently arrived on Prime Video. Florence Pugh and Harry Styles are a couple whose life in suburban 1950s America is so perfect that something's got to be wrong, right? Gemma Chan, Olivia Wilde (who also directs) and Chris Pine round out the cast of a film that almost sank before it had debuted, thanks to backstage scuttlebutt and the Twittersphere's verdict on Styles' acting – he's fine, though the accent wobbles a bit. Verdict: a nicely done midweight shocker with lovers of The Handmaid's Tale in its sights. ★★★ SM

Feeling the strain: Can Sam defend Justin?

Showtrial DRAMA 9PM, BBC1

'Nothing I say is irrelevant,' says Justin Mitchell (Michael Socha) in a prison meeting with his lawyer, Sam Malik (Adeel Akhtar), as he awaits his murder trial. 'You just need to learn to pay attention.' He may be concerned whether he's chosen the right person to represent him as Sam is buckling under insomnia (and spends a lot of this episode with his head in his hands), but that's not the only reason Justin's cocksure veneer is cracking. Elsewhere, Southgate (Joe Dempsie) and Packham (Tom Padley) play 'bad cop, bad cop' while interviewing Justin's partner, Sandra (Anna Prochniak) – and will there be repercussions when CPS lawyer Leila (Nathalie Armin) is distracted from the case? ★★★★★ JP

THE DAYOn the case: DI Ray and
DS Kwesi Edmund
(Peter Bankolé)The return of the Birmingham-set
police series*NEW DRAMA 9PM, ITV1
(BOX SET, ITVX)

In the first series of this crime drama, smartly scripted by Line of Duty star Maya Sondhi, we saw DI Rachita Ray (ER's Parminder Nagra) get her longed-for promotion to the homicide squad, only to spend as much time battling institutional racism as she did chasing criminals. As series two begins, a shooting outside a hospital looks set to spark a turf war between rival criminal families, and Rachita has the unenviable job of trying to catch the killer before tensions escalate. But her problems at work haven't gone away either, and she's wondering whether to pursue an official complaint about the prejudice she's encountering. Continues to Tuesday. ★★★★★ SP

DI RAYMills and dales:
Fiona presentsAntiques
Roadshow*FACTUAL 8PM, BBC1

Fiona Bruce and the team are back at Cromford Mills in Derbyshire this week, a key site in the Industrial Revolution and a fine setting for history-lovers. Chris Yeo gets excited about a trinket box that was bought in a sale of attic treasures from nearby Chatsworth House, while Frances Christie is intrigued to see a sketch by a famous ballet dancer. ★★★ JPM

Sunny outlook: Bob and
Paul weather the stormMortimer & Whitehouse: Gone Fishing*FACTUAL 9PM, BBC2

Bob Mortimer and Paul Whitehouse visit Norfolk this week, arriving at the spit at Blakeney Point in driving rain. 'Glorious, isn't it?' says Paul cheerfully. 'We could just go home,' ventures Bob, but he's soon knee-deep in the North Sea, while Ted the dog lollops along the sand. The weather's much better the next day at the River Glaven, where they fish for sea trout. As usual, there's no shortage of lovely banter. 'I've got something for you,' Bob tells Paul as they head for a break. 'Is it whisky?' he asks. 'No,' Bob replies, 'it's perfectly safe...' ★★★★★ JP

DON'T MISS...*Hauntings LAST ONE*FACTUAL 10PM & 10.45PM (TIMES VARY), BBC2

The series concludes with tales of ghostly events in Edinburgh after a 17th-century tomb was disturbed, and mysterious sightings at a lake in the USA where multiple people have died.

BBC Young Musician*LAST ONE MUSIC 6.30PM, BBC2

Recorded in September at the Bristol Beacon concert hall, three teenage soloists perform in the grand final of this year's competition, accompanied by the BBC National Orchestra of Wales.

MONDAY

Daddy's girl: Avani deceives Ravi – with violent consequences

EastEnders SOAP 7.30PM, BBC1

Nothing good was ever going to come of gobby Avani's 'romance' with older boy Mason, and a Panesar/Mitchell feud is ignited when Avani (Aaliyah James) is caught texting the no-mark and lies that she's dating Teddy's bookworm son Barney. Later spotting his daughter with a busted lip, Ravi (Aaron Thiara) assumes Barney is to blame, and viciously tears into the innocent teen, which is set to lead to a clash between him and Ted. Ravi, we reckon, could probably flatten pastel jumper man in five seconds flat, but Teddy's a bit of a psycho underneath that soft knitwear and Mr Muscle will soon realise that he's messed with the wrong man... ★★★★★ AS

Down at the docks: Mary and Sam return to what they know

The Hardacres DRAMA 9PM, CHANNEL 5

We suspected that moody Joe might find it hardest to adjust to his family's new-found wealth, and he flounders when dad Sam (Liam McMahon) makes him joint manager at the docks where they both once worked, and which Sam has purchased. While Joe's old pals don't make life easy for him, tension brews as he must share the load with Sam's capable ex-colleague Fred... Meanwhile, Mary (Claire Cooper) hosts a tea party at Hardacre Hall for the ladies' charitable circle, under the watchful eye of waspish neighbour Lady Emma Fitzherbert. Can Mary win a coveted ticket into high society? ★★★★★ CC

Learning curve: Michael's show reveals how new skills bring benefits

Michael Mosley

LAST ONE FACTUAL 8.30PM (NI & WALES, TUES), BBC1

...Just One Thing. The second straightforward tip to bring life benefits in Michael's final series is to learn a skill. Michael advises Aly, who's in her 60s and feeling her brain needs a boost, to do 20 minutes of something new a day. While she opts for learning Spanish and baking, her friends join in for moral support, with dancing, photography and guitar-playing all gaining converts. ★★★★★ NT

Behind the scenes: Daniel and crew have a blockbuster to make

The Franchise

NEW COMEDY 10PM, 10.40PM & 11.15PM, SKY COMEDY

Superhero movies look great on the big screen, but making them is a minefield of ridiculous production problems for Daniel (Himesh Patel), the first assistant director of the fictional blockbuster at the centre of this sharp-tongued satire. With writers and producers who've brought us shows such as Succession and The Thick of It, it's fair to say a lot is expected of this eight-part series – and it just about delivers, jabbing at the absurdity of Hollywood, without ever landing a knockout blow. ★★★★★ SMA

New cases: Pearl with
DCI Mike McGuire
(Howard Charles)

Back to the Kentish coast for a third series of the drama

NEW DRAMA ACORN TV (RELEASED WEEKLY)

An instant hit when it launched in 2021, this coastal crime drama endeared itself to audiences (and everyone at TV Times) thanks to offbeat cases, characters you can invest in, and Kerry Godliman's warm-hearted portrayal of private eye Pearl. Going from strength to strength with every passing season, tonight it returns with a new mystery involving a local woman, who's spotted on the beach seven years after her disappearance. As every element of the show is still evolving, from the main players to increasingly complex cases, the denouement is unexpected. Welcome back Whitstable Pearl. ★★★★★ ER

Strap in for more drama: Tristan's back

Made in Chelsea

NEW REALITY 10.35PM, E4

As a new series starts, we're back in west London – and it looks like there's going to be some fallout from Tristan and Miles' recent crossover trip to Australia in Made in Bondi. If Jules is hoping to get back together with Tristan, she may face a setback when she hears about his fling – not to mention the surprise arrival of Molly from Oz. Meanwhile, Ollie and Gareth's twins are approaching their first birthday. ★★ ★ JP

Out in public:
Is Barry ready to admit his love for Morris?

Mr Loverman DRAMA 9PM & 9.30PM, BBC1

We've learned plenty about the family life of Barrington Jedidiah Walker (Lennie James) in the first two episodes of this touching and beautifully performed drama, but precious little about that of his secret lover, Morris De La Roux (Ariyon Bakare). That's set to change in this week's double bill as Barry recalls the fateful moment when Morris' wife caught the pair of them making love, an incident that ended his best friend's marriage. Although they have managed to keep their ongoing affair under wraps ever since, Morris feels ready to go public with their relationship, even suggesting that they get married. But is Barry ready for that? ★★★★★ IM

DON'T MISS...

Hot Yachts: Miami

NEW REALITY 8PM, E4

Step on board the most luxurious boats in the world, to meet the people who sell them, including yacht broker Liliana Lopez, in a mash-up of Below Deck and Selling Sunset.

Our Farm Next Door

REALITY 9PM, MORE4

...Amanda, Clive and Kids. As the Our Yorkshire Farm family get to work on the derelict farmhouse, there's a race against time to remove the old timbers and fix the roof before the weather gets worse.

Secrets and lies: How long can the Savages keep up their cover?

Waterloo Road DRAMA 9PM, BBC1

Headteacher Steve Savage (Jason Manford) and son Billy (Olly Rhodes) have so far managed to keep their involvement in pupil Boz's death a secret. But as the police swarm Waterloo Road in tonight's penultimate episode, it seems that their luck could be running out. Steve is stunned when Mike reveals they have evidence to suggest Boz's death wasn't an accident – it's now a murder inquiry and they want to quiz the students. Later, as a distraught Billy tells his dad the cops know about Boz bullying him, Steve reveals just how far he'll go to throw them off the scent and protect his son. Meanwhile, Nisha is forced to make improvements. The perfect teaser for what's sure to be an epic finale. ★★★★★ VW

Dad's favourite: Nadiya makes the daddy of all trifles

Nadiya's Cook Once, Eat Twice

LAST ONE COOKERY 7.30PM, BBC2

In the last episode of her 'faff-free' series, Nadiya Hussain returns to her first love – baking. But first a 'monster' chicken and peanut traybake, whose leftovers double up as noodle soup. Her tip is to add vegetables that cook at the same time, and with a characteristic surprise, the hero veg is baked cucumber. She also makes caramel, white chocolate and rock salt brownies that are 'fudgy enough to last all week'. The pièce de résistance is her dad's favourite trifle, which uses another unusual ingredient, lemonade. Cheap and cheerful cooking at its most creative. ★★★ NT

Mountain spirit: Ben and Alex in central Portugal

Ben Fogle: New Lives in the Wild

FACTUAL 9PM, CHANNEL 5

As the series continues, Ben heads to south Europe to reconnect with his old acquaintance Alex, who gave up a corporate lifestyle in retail to live in the mountains of central Portugal. Three years on, Ben discovers Alex has successfully been able to create the peaceful retreat he needed, living without modern amenities, building his own house and living off the land. It's enabled him to heal from childhood trauma and start over. The presenter experiences the healing power of nature for himself. He is also intrigued to find that Alex has taken up a new hobby... ★★★ NT

Rolling pins at the ready for Pastry Week

COOKERY 8PM, C4

The bakers are now halfway through the competition, and so far this series there's been no shortage of drama in the tent. As the show reaches its midpoint, will the remaining bakers flake under the pressure in Pastry Week – especially as it's judge Paul Hollywood's favourite challenge? Although they seem to start out on a roll with a frangipane tart Signature, their dough dreams soon come crumbling down with the Showstopper, when they're tasked with making a tricky Paris-Brest dessert from choux pastry, plus a precarious freestanding podium! So who's the crème de la crème and who'll be scone with the wind? Don't miss An Extra Slice on Thursday (C4, 8pm). ★★★★★ HD

Ecstatic: Aston Villa's Jhon Durán celebrates the win against Bayern Munich

ASTON VILLA V BOLOGNA

Champions League

LIVE FOOTBALL 7PM, TNT SPORTS 1

All eyes will be on Aston Villa in their first European fixture since delighting their fans (including a very animated Prince of Wales) with a historic win against Bayern Munich. Unai Emery's team, building on a brilliant season last term, have every reason to be confident as they take on Bologna (kick-off 8pm) at Villa Park – especially with super-sub Jhon Durán, who scored the winning goal against Bayern, in their ranks along with fellow striker Ollie Watkins and Emiliano Martínez, currently one of the best goalkeepers in the world. ★★★★★ JP

Emotional trip:
Sarah and James

DNA Journey LAST ONE FACTUAL 9PM, ITV1

Having both recently lost a parent, actors and friends James Nesbitt and Sarah Parish find their journey in this episode to be all the more emotional. While Sarah is moved to learn her great-great-great-uncle was influential in making education available to every child in Scotland, there's a surprise for James when they travel to France and discover more about his war-hero grandfather William, who was injured at the Somme in 1916. It turns out James' dad, Jim, who died in 2020, collated and transcribed William's wartime diary and donated it to a library, where it went missing. But the DNA Journey team have tracked it down, leaving James moved to tears... ★★★★★ HD

Sitting: Steven Frayne,
formerly Dynamo

Portrait Artist of the Year

FACTUAL 8PM, SKY ARTS, SKY MIX & SKY SHOWCASE

Presided over by host Stephen Mangan, this week's sitters are historian Dan Snow, actor Layton Williams and Steven Frayne, the magician formerly known as Dynamo. Afterwards at 9pm there's another chance to see the feature-length Portrait Artist of the Decade, in which nine previous winners painted Dame Judi Dench. ★★ ★ JP

Support: Jesse is there for Gail when she needs him

Coronation Street SOAP 8PM, ITV1

It's been well-publicised that Helen Worth is leaving Corrie as Gail Rodwell, but will Gail swan off into the sunset with new fella Jesse (John Thomson), or is she destined for a premature trip to Weatherfield heaven? Things don't look good when, after witnessing her fella rowing with David and Sarah, she comes over all funny and has the classic symptoms of a heart attack – one of which she's already had, in 2021, when her flamin' kids were once again giving her grief. We're pretty confident that our Gail will make a full recovery and a more fitting exit is on the cards – preferably after another classic Barney with Eileen. ★★ ★ AS

Surprise! Uyi pops the question to Kayleigh

Will You Marry Me? NEW REALITY 10PM, E4

Bring on the romance! Nine people are getting a big helping hand to pop the question in this fun and sometimes tear-jerky new series. Laura is among those featured who wants to plan a special proposal for her boyfriend of 10 years, Jack. With the assistance of London-based company The Proposers, she decides on a French theme, complete with a vineyard experience and cancan dancers. Meanwhile, thrill-seeker Theo takes to the skies to astonish his girlfriend Livia with an engagement ring, and property manager Uyi pulls out all the stops with a proposal at the top of London's Shard. Expect tears of joy, some extremely surprised people and a lot of decoys to explain away a film crew. ★★ ★ TL

LUDWIG

A murder at a school tests fake cop John

COMEDY DRAMA
9PM, BBC1

When John (David Mitchell) and DI Carter attend the scene of a headteacher's apparent suicide, something doesn't feel right – and it's not just the head's poor grammar on a typed note. 'Double negatives, no apostrophes,' tuts John. The detectives soon realise they're dealing with a murder, a 'locked room' puzzle – and John has help from an unexpected source which gives us more of an insight into how he became Ludwig. Meanwhile, Lucy's investigation into James' disappearance throws up more questions than answers. Rose Ayling-Ellis, Sir Derek Jacobi and Sam Swainsbury guest star as three of the school teachers who become suspects. ★★★★★ JP

Starring role:
Elizabeth Banks

Call Jane

PREMIERE DRAMA 9PM, FILM4, CHANNEL 4 ON DEMAND

Elizabeth Banks stars in this 2022 drama set in the 1960s, before the landmark Roe vs Wade ruling on abortion in the US. A happily married woman with a teenage daughter, Joy (Banks) desperately seeks out an illegal abortion after discovering that she's pregnant again and a recent heart condition puts her at risk. An impressive cast also includes Sigourney Weaver, Kate Mara, Chris Messina and Aida Turturro. ★★★★★ JP

Majestic: The Lonach
Highlanders in the Cairngorms

National Parks from Above

NEW FACTUAL 9PM, MORE4

This new series looks at national parks across the world – beginning with a bird's-eye view of the area, then heading down to ground level to meet those who live and work in these incredible landscapes. This first episode heads to Scotland to explore the mountains, forests and lochs of Cairngorms National Park, and meets the Lonach Highlanders as they prepare to greet a royal guest. Parks featured in other episodes will include Vatnajökull in Iceland (home to the largest glacier in Europe) and Cévennes in southern France. ★★★ JP

DON'T MISS...

New Zealand's Best Homes

PROPERTY 10PM, C4

As the series continues, Phil Spencer visits a family home in Parnell, Auckland, a split-level house out in the countryside and a property on the banks of Lake Hayes in Queenstown.

The Elephants' Graveyard

DRAMA 10.10PM, BBC4

The first of two Peter McDougall Play for Today dramas, first shown in 1976, is of particular interest as it stars Billy Connolly in an early acting role.

THURSDAY Highlights

Hosts: Carol and Ashley

Pride of Britain Awards NEW FACTUAL 8PM, ITV1

Pride of Britain has always been the awards show with a difference – rather than celebrating the famous faces who win plaudits all year round, this event honours the achievements of ordinary people across the UK. And this year, they're bringing out the big guns as Pride of Britain turns 25. Once again, Carol Vorderman and Ashley Banjo host from London's Grosvenor House Hotel as a host of famous faces celebrate the real stars: members of the public who've performed random acts of kindness or triumphed over adversity, and some truly remarkable children of courage. Grab the tissues... there won't be a dry eye in the house! ★★★★★ VW

Beat and greet:
Tom and Jo

An Extra Slice

ENTERTAINMENT 8PM, C4

Jo Brand and Tom Allen commiserate with the departing baker whose choux skills didn't impress in Bake Off's Pastry Week. There's the usual mix of hilarious cake photos sent in by fans and dubious-looking bakes brought in by the spin-off's ever-enthusiastic studio audience. Cake lovers AJ Odudu, Natalie Cassidy and Alexander Armstrong join the anarchic fun on the celebrity panel. Tasty! ★★★★★ RF

Doctor Odyssey NEW DRAMA DISNEY+ (FIRST TWO EPISODES, THEN WEEKLY)

If it's a glossy feel-good medical drama you're after then set sail with this series that stars Joshua Jackson (Dawson's Creek) as Dr Max Bankman, the new on-board medic on a luxury cruise ship, who has to deal with various bizarre medical cases while also navigating romance and below-deck drama. Don Johnson (Miami Vice) also stars as Captain Robert Massey, alongside Sean Teale (Skins) and Phillipa Soo (Hamilton), while the top-quality guest cast includes Shania Twain. The perfect prescription... HD

Riding high: Emily Lawson
and her daughter Susie
(Phillippa Northeast)

Territory NEW DRAMA NETFLIX

This six-part Outback epic, set in Australia's remote Northern Territory, centres on a fractious family's battle for power and succession when the world's largest cattle station is left without an heir. Following his favourite son's death, ruthless patriarch Colin Lawson (Longmire's Robert Taylor) is struggling to name a successor for

Marianne Station – his other son is a hopeless alcoholic, although his daughter-in-law Emily (The Newsreader's Anna Torv) has worked hard for a seat at the table. But as wealthy miners, Indigenous elders and rival cattle barons all circle like vultures, the Lawson dynasty soon begins to crumble over the fight for land and legacy. RM

PICK OF THE DAY

Sorry sight: Siegfried and Tristan

The brothers have one for the road as the series bows out!

LAST ONE DRAMA 9PM, CHANNEL 5

We can't believe it's the end of the series already, but Darrowby's finest pull out all the stops in this fabulous finale. As James (Nicholas Ralph) falls ill and gives Helen (Rachel Shenton) cause for concern, Mrs Hall (Anna Madeley) and Mrs Pumphrey (Patricia Hodge) try to keep things running smoothly at Skeldale House. Meanwhile, Siegfried (Samuel West) and Tristan (Callum Woodhouse) head into the Dales to treat a horse, but run out of petrol on their way back. As the bickering brothers hilariously fortify themselves with the farmer's elderflower wine, can they make it home safely? Roll on the Christmas special!

Hearing voices: Belle

Emmerdale

SOAP 7PM, ITV1

Belle's abuse by husband Tom has been a skilful and moving piece of drama. Now, not only traumatised by his behaviour but also grieving the death of her dad Zak, she starts to hear 'voices'; a sure sign that she is suffering another episode of schizophrenia. Eden Taylor-Draper is in terrific form as Belle, but we won't be happy until the writers finally let brooding Cain out of the traps to wreak revenge on his slimeball of a brother-in-law. ★★★★★ AS

Fangs for the memory: Christopher Lee's Dracula

The Life and Deaths of Christopher Lee

NEW Factual 9PM, SKY ARTS

Dracula star Christopher Lee comes back from the dead in puppet form to tell his story in this humorous yet touching film about his life and career, with Peter Serafinowicz impersonating Lee's deep, commanding voice to narrate. There are tales of Lee's wealthy Italian heritage and how he became a Nazi-hunting spy following World War Two before he turned to acting. But despite acclaimed roles in The Man with the Golden Gun, Star Wars and The Lord of the Rings, Lee struggled with insecurities. Directors John Landis and Peter Jackson, as well as Lee's niece Dame Harriet Walter, are among the stars sharing their memories. ★★★★★ HD

Virtual reality: Mats Steen's avatar Ibelin and friend

The Remarkable Life of Ibelin

PREMIERE DOCUMENTARY NETFLIX

When Mats Steen died from a degenerative muscle-wasting disease aged 25, his parents mourned what they thought had been a physically restrictive and isolated life. That's until his online friends started contacting them in their droves and they discovered he'd been leading a virtual life via his World of Warcraft avatar Ibelin, who drank beer, made friends, flirted and fell in love. This extraordinary film features extracts from Mats' moving blog and hears from the online friends he'd kept hidden from his family. Movingly, it also recreates his World of Warcraft life via animation to reveal a young man free from his physical disability. ★★★★★ HD

Into the blue: Nemo and his ragtag crew escape a penal colony

Nautilus NEW FANTASY DRAMA PRIME VIDEO

This 10-part series puts a fresh spin on Jules Verne's classic story Twenty Thousand Leagues under the Sea, and lets us get properly under the skin of the elusive Captain Nemo (Star Trek: Discovery's Shazad Latif). After breaking free from a penal colony in a submarine that he helped to build, Nemo is determined to carry himself and his fellow escapees to freedom. He gains some additional passengers after ramming a ship carrying Humility Lucas (Apples Never Fall star Georgia Flood) to an arranged marriage in Bombay – but can this ragtag group of near-strangers function as a successful crew? SP

Damned weather: Brennan and Wicky

The Cleaner

COMEDY 9.30PM, BBC1

Crime-scene cleaner Paul Wickstead (Greg Davies) is thrilled to be sent to a remote Irish lighthouse to clean the bedroom of missing lighthouse keeper's mate Patrick. However, his dreams of an idyllic seaside escape are soon thwarted when he meets the batty lighthouse keeper, Brennan (Conleth Hill). Brennan is convinced that Patrick was taken by a legendary sea creature, and it's not long before some spooky goings-on suggest he might be right. ★★★★★ NH

Bossing it: Springsteen on stage earlier this year

Road Diary: Bruce Springsteen and the E Street Band

NEW DOCUMENTARY DISNEY+

An absolute treat for music fans, this feature-length documentary follows Bruce Springsteen and his legendary band as they rehearse for and embark on a world tour, their first in six years. There's cracking archive footage of the band early on in their music career, and lots of testimony from band members past and present, as we gain an insight into how carefully Springsteen, now 75, curates each tour while also leaving room for spontaneity on stage, where he is a master at connecting with the crowd. At one point, attending a Springsteen gig is likened to going to church. ★★★★★ IM

Over the Avon: Susan on her latest tour*NEW TRAVELOGUE

8PM, CHANNEL 5

Susan's back on the road with camper van Helen Mirren as the series resumes after its break. Our host is in Bristol where she enthusiastically declares, 'I love a gorge!', by which she means the view from Clifton Suspension Bridge. After travelling over it, she gets to see the vaults under it. A cruise fan's visit to SS Great Britain – once the largest passenger ship in the world – is next, before a recce to spot local artist Banksy's works. Susan gets emotional when she meets the man behind the Bristol Bus Boycott, a protest that led to the Race Relations Act of 1965. But time is running out – she's off to the Cotswolds Olympics to witness the sport of shin-kicking! ★★★★★ MC

Talisman: England's
Keira WalshENGLAND v GERMANY*International Football*LIVE SPORT 7PM, ITV1

There's a rerun of the women's 2022 Euro final tonight when England take on Germany at Wembley (kick-off 7.30pm). No need for fans to stress, though, as the Lionesses have already qualified for Euro 2025 – this is a friendly and a good chance for manager Sarina Wiegman to give some playing time to less established players. It's likely we'll see midfielder Keira Walsh, however, often called the team's most irreplaceable player and, until this year, the world's most expensive in women's football. On BBC iPlayer you can see the first leg of Euro play-offs featuring Slovakia v Wales (kick-off 4.30pm), Hungary v Scotland (kick-off 5.15pm) and Croatia v Northern Ireland (kick-off 6pm). ★★★★★ JP

THIS WEEK'S PICKS

Romesh Ranganathan... Alex Jones Sits In

Saturday, BBC Radio 2, 10.00am

The One Show host takes the place of the comedian for today's mid-morning show and, as it's National Album Day, Alex will be playing tracks from Great British groups.

Archive on 4: The Mandy Rice-Davies Tapes

Saturday, BBC Radio 4, 8.00pm

Former Newsnight host Kirsty Wark takes a look at the Profumo Affair of the early 1960s, using recordings of model and singer Mandy Rice-Davies – who had a headline-grabbing role in the subsequent trial held in 1963.

THIS WEEK ON... THE ARCHERS

The Grundy family throws themselves into preparations for Apple Day but, with so much bad feeling still aimed at them, the occasion may well prove to be a wash out.

Elsewhere in Ambridge, Brad must face a nerve-racking experience – and then finds himself under pressure to keep a secret. Stella has plans for a ploughing competition – and Ruth is also keen to be involved too.

Weekdays, BBC Radio 4, 2.00pm

WHAT YOU'RE WATCHING

LORRAINE REIGNS

I enjoyed watching Lorraine Kelly: 40 Unforgettable Years on ITV1. From her early days as a young reporter to TV-am and her own show, her relaxed style of interviewing has ensured she's a favourite with viewers, despite being told she would never get ahead with her Scottish accent. It's lovely to see her continuing to work in the field she loves.
Joyce Wilson, Derry

PICTURE THIS

I'm so pleased to see Alan Carr's Picture Slam back for a second series on BBC1. This game show really does have something for everyone as teams try to identify all manner of images at speed. As the show's host, Alan makes it a lot of fun with his wry and witty humour.
Jan Stephenson, Burton upon Trent

PURE GEM!

ITV1's Joan was a splendid drama. We've seen female jewel thieves in other TV series and films, but this was the true-life account of Joan Hannington, revealing how and why she became a notorious criminal in 1980s London. It was an exciting story that I previously knew nothing about and Sophie Turner, who played Joan, was exceptional in the role.
Iris Dutton, Telford

£25 WINNER

JUST THE JOB!

I love ITV1's M&S: Dress the Nation, which sees amateur designers competing to win a dream job at high-street chain Marks & Spencer. It's part Sewing Bee and part job interview, and it's kept me on the edge of my seat every week!
Victoria Prodan, London

DERMOT ON TOUR

Dermot O'Leary's Taste of Ireland on ITV1 opened my eyes to what a beautiful place the Emerald Isle is as the presenter explored some of its gastronomic delights. It was nice to see Dermot doing the odd bit of cooking, too!

Samantha Winwood, West Midlands

SUPER COOPER!

Seeing Dame Jilly Cooper on BBC1's In My Own Words reminded me what a fantastic raconteur she is. I particularly liked the story about how her bank manager said her book Riders wouldn't make much money, which, of course, it did as it sold by the truckload!

N Bethune, Edinburgh

TV TURN-OFF

TEDDY MITCHELL'S JUMPER

Now that we are in chilly weather, it looks like EastEnders' Teddy Mitchell has ditched the pink jumper that he usually wears around his neck. I think he's great, but I found it so annoying! Wear it or leave it at home!
C. Isherwood, Cambridgeshire

ON THE COVER IN... 1989

21-27 October

On 8 December 1989, in one of Coronation Street's most-memorable scenes, Alan Bradley (played by Mark Eden) was fatally hit by a tram while chasing after his former partner Rita Fairclough (Barbara Knox) in Blackpool.

The volatile and violent villain had tried to kill Rita after she uncovered his fraudulent dealings and then went on to torment her for months. Seven weeks before Alan met his demise, Barbara told us how his treatment of Rita had struck a chord with female viewers.

'I had hundreds of letters from ladies who had been through the same experience with that type of man taking their money and doing awful things to them,' she said.

Married in real life to co-star Sue Nicholls (Audrey Roberts), Mark, who was diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease in later life, died on 1 January 2021, aged 92. Barbara, now 91, is still going strong on the Street.
